WINEMAKERS NOTE

The 2020 season was one of the toughest in recent memory for red varietals, with an October 2019 freeze hitting vines before dormancy and drastically reducing yields. Despite the setback, the 2020 “TNT” Tempranillo lives up to its name—an explosion of flavor. Aged 14 months in French and American oak, it’s bold, expressive, and ready to enjoy now or cellar for added depth.
